University of Groningen

Ageing and Exchange of Care in Emigrant Households

Ugargol, Allen

DOI:
10.33612/diss.127734371

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version
Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:
2020

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Ugargol, A. (2020). Ageing and Exchange of Care in Emigrant Households: Case Studies from Kerala and Goa, India. [Thesis fully internal (DIV), University of Groningen]. University of Groningen.
<https://doi.org/10.33612/diss.127734371>

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

Ageing and Exchange of Care in Emigrant Households

Case Studies from Kerala and Goa, India

Allen Prabhaker Ugargol

ISBN: 978-94-034-2817-8

NUR Code: 900

Copyright: © Allen Prabhaker Ugargol

All rights reserved. Save exceptions stated by the law, no part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system of any nature, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, included a complete or partial transcription, without the prior written permission of the author.

This doctoral study was supported by the Indian-European Research Networking Grant: Ageing and Well-Being in a Globalising World, funded by NWO-ESRC-ICSSR (Project Number: 465-11-009). The participating institutions included the Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, India; Center for Development Studies, Trivandrum, India; Population Research Centre, University of Groningen, The Netherlands and the University of Southampton, United Kingdom.

Layout and Printed by:

National Printing Press
580, KR Garden, Koramangala,
Bengaluru-560095.
Karnataka, INDIA

university of groningen

Ageing and Exchange of Care in Emigrant Households

Case Studies from Kerala and Goa, India

PhD thesis

to obtain the degree of PhD at the University of Groningen
on the authority of the Rector Magnificus Prof. C. Wijmenga and in accordance with the decision by the College of Deans.

This thesis will be defended in public on Thursday 25 June 2020 at 14.30 hours

by

Allen Prabhaker Ugargol

born on 11 October 1976
in Dharwad, India

Supervisors

Prof. I. Hutter

Prof. K.S. James

Prof. A. Bailey

Assessment Committee

Prof. C. M. Fokkema

Prof. T. Haartsen

Prof. S. Irudaya Rajan

To God Almighty
&
to my dear Daddy!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I begin with the oft quoted phrase ‘The journey not the arrival matters’ (TS Eliot). Every accomplishment starts with a decision to try and my journey through the PhD has been no less. It began during an informal discussion with my mentor to be – Prof. K.S. James at the Institute of Social and Economic Change, Bangalore. I was soon a doctoral aspirant writing the PhD entrance test at Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore. After selection, I began my pre-doctoral courses there and was glad to be the offered and in fact became the first doctoral student pursuing the sandwich PhD position between the University of Groningen, The Netherlands and the Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore. It was at this juncture that I met Prof. Ajay Bailey, and his has been an inspiring guidance all through my doctoral pursuit. I am grateful to the Joint PhD opportunity between the Institute of Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore and the University of Groningen (RUG), The Netherlands.

My doctoral study was supported by the Indian-European Research Networking Grant: Ageing and Well-Being in a Globalising World, funded by NWO-ESRC-ICSSR (Project Number: 465-11-009). The participating institutions included the Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, India; Center for Development Studies, Trivandrum, India; Population Research Centre, University of Groningen, The Netherlands and the University of Southampton, United Kingdom. I am ever grateful to this collaborative grant.

I am indebted to my wonderful supervisors – Prof. Inge Hutter, Prof. K.S. James and Prof. Ajay Bailey who constituted a perfect supervision team. I have been enormously blessed to have you all as my supervisors and I truly acknowledge and am grateful for the faith you have had in me, the support you provided, the patience, motivation and insightful guidance that helped me complete this doctoral journal. From the initial proposal development to the presentations at ISEC and RUG, in planning the field work and even accompanying me to the field, the support I received from my supervisors is unimaginable. Doctoral work can get lonely and difficult but in my case I was so fortunate that I had the support at every step and the right direction given to go ahead and complete the work.

Prof Inge, I can fondly remember your friendly advice and your ability to help me overcome initial confusions and leading me to clarity whenever we interacted. Prof. James, I can never forget the influence you have had on my life and for supporting me to chart this PhD trajectory. Prof. Ajay, you have been a friend, philosopher and guide and your warmth and ability to make me think and improvise, guiding and at the same time enabling me to work independently has been a true blessing. I thank you and Kanika for helping me and my family adjust at Groningen and the fond memories we have had.

I also fondly remember my doctoral committee members at ISEC, Bangalore – Prof. K.S. James, Dr. T.N. Bhat, Dr. Sobin George, Prof. T.S. Syamala who supported me through the progress of the proposal and guided the research study at every biennial seminar. I could never have gone ahead without their time, patience and attention to detail. I recall the support and encouragement from the then Director of ISEC, Prof. R.S. Deshpande who kept telling me I was the first student from the medical fraternity at ISEC and hence had to be a path breaker. I am grateful to the support and guidance received from my PhD Panel Members at ISEC – Dr. Lekha Subaiya and Prof. G. Giridhar whose advice, critical comments and suggestions helped shape the proposal and the ensuing research progressively.

I would like to thank the members of the Reading Committee, Prof. C. M. Fokkema, Prof. T. Haartsen and Prof. S. Irudaya Rajan. Thank you for the time and your effort in reviewing this thesis, and more so, for approving it.

My sincere thanks also go to Prof. Clara Mulder, for all the encouraging discussions and interactions we had during my time at Groningen. I am obliged to the faculty members of the Faculty of Spatial Sciences, the Population Research Centre, Department of Demography and many colleagues outside the faculty. I would especially like to recollect and thank each one of you who have left a lasting impression on me and I am obliged for the warmth and affection I received during my stint at Groningen. I would like to thank Dr. Leo, Dr. Hinke, Dr. Shirish, Dr. Louise, Dr. Sepideh, Dr. Liesbeth. I wish I could mention all the faculty names! I would like to particularly thank Prof. Fanny, Dr. Eva, Sylvia, Nikhil, Arun, Ziad, Lybrich, Linden, Vera, Dr. Marieke, Titissari, Dr. Sanne, Dr. Debbie, Dr. Anu, Elda, Jakko, Sergi, Mattias, Dr. Acul, Ruben, Antje, Roselinde, Dr. Emmy, Bo Zhang and all my other PhD colleagues. I would also like to thank Ms. Alida and Ms. Tineke from the Graduate school for helping me with all the procedures. I would also like to thank the secretaries at Demography department: Stiny, Mirjam, Eliza and others for always being very helpful and supportive. I thank Dr. Sanne Ponsioen, the PhD Coordinator for being ever supportive and understanding. The Language Centre at the RUG was very supportive in helping me with the translations to Dutch within a short period of time.

In my academic journey, I have being fortunate to have met many other scholars who have helped to shape my academic viewpoint and expand my horizon. I am also grateful to the support and facilitation I received from Caritas, Goa and the Kottayam Social Service Society (KSSS), Kottayam who enabled me to get access to the older adults' households and also provided me with a translator and research assistant in the field. I would like to profusely thank Rev. Fr. Maverick Fernandes, the Director of Piedade Institute - Caritas Goa, Rev. Fr. Savio M. Fernandes and Ms. Ana D' Mello who accepted me as their own and involved me in their daily activities and supported me so much in the field work and beyond. I am grateful to Rev. Fr. Michael Vettickat, Rev. Fr. Bins Jose Chethalil, Kottayam Social Service Society (KSSS), Kottayam, Kerala who provided me access to older adults in Kottayam district. I am highly obliged for the assistance and support received from Ms. Remya Mohan, Ms. Reshmi Mohan and the Mohan family who provided me support, hospitality and opened their home for me during the field work in Chingivanam, Kottayam, Kerala.

I am thankful to all the Bishops, Fathers and parishioners from South Goa and Chingivanam in Kottayam – the key gatekeepers who supported the study and provided me the much needed access to the homes of older adults. I am indebted to the students of St. Bridget Home Nursing Institute, Aldona, Bardez, Goa with whom my interactions and visits proved to be very engaging and fruitful. I thank the University of Groningen for supporting me on this exciting PhD journey through the Ubbo Emmius Fellowship and the financial support supported me throughout the PhD tenure. My special appreciation goes to the International Office of the University of Groningen and the staff who played a central role in supporting and facilitating my visit and stay in the Netherlands. I truly enjoyed and gratefully acknowledge the warmth and hospitality that I experienced at the homes of older adults and thank them, their immediate family members and extended family for opening their hearts and homes to me. I am humbled by their frank accounts and enormous trust and magnitude to confide in an absolute stranger.

I thank my current organization, the Institute of Health Management Research (IIHMR), Bangalore, for supporting me as I was completing the PhD. I thank our Trustee Secretary – Dr. S.D. Gupta for his encouragement. I am indebted to our Director, Dr. Usha Manjunath for being a supportive mentor. I also thank all the faculty and staff at IIHMR, Bangalore.

In the end and most certainly not the least, I am grateful to my family in Bangalore, India for supporting me so much and enabling my journey through the difficulties and sacrifices. I am truly indebted to the support and encouragement I received from my mother, my brother Jason, my wife Veena - who has been patient and encouraging and my lovely kids Neil and Nicole who allowed me to proceed with the project even though it meant I was preoccupied and sometimes unavailable to them. Thank you for the relentless encouragement, patience, understanding and love. This achievement is yours as much as is mine!

Allen Prabhaker Ugargol

Bangalore, India

June 5, 2020

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter 1: Introduction	1
1.1 Demography of Ageing in India and the Emigration Context	1
1.2 Contextualization of Care for Older Adults in India	2
1.3 The Context and Study Setting	5
1.4 Research Objectives and Research Questions	9
1.5 Theoretical Framework	11
1.6 Data and Methods	12
1.7 Structure of the Thesis	18
Chapter 2: Care Needs and Caregivers: Associations and Effects of Living Arrangements on Caregiving to Older Adults in India	27
2.1 Introduction	27
2.2 Understanding Social Change and Familial Support for Older Adults in India	29
2.3 Health, Functional and Disability Needs of Older Adults in India	30
2.4 Objectives	31
2.5 Research Design	32
2.6 Variables	33
2.7 Results	36
2.8 Effects of Living Arrangements on Caregiving to Older Adults for Their Care Needs	42
2.9 Effect of Control Variables on Caregiving to Older Adults during Care Needs	43
2.10 Discussion	46

Chapter 3: Perceived Care Needs of Older Adults: Perspectives of Older Adults and their Caregivers from Emigrant Households in Kerala and Goa, India	57
3.1 Introduction	57
3.2 Theoretical Construct	59
3.3 Data and Methods	61
3.4 Findings	62
3.5 Discussion	84
Chapter 4: Reciprocity between older adults and their caregivers in emigrant households of Kerala, India	95
4.1 Introduction	95
4.2 Theoretical Construct	98
4.3 Methods	100
4.4 Findings	106
4.5 Discussion	120
Chapter 5: Family caregivers for older adults: gendered roles and caregiver burden in emigrant households of Kerala, India	133
5.1 Introduction	133
5.2 Methodology	137
5.3 Findings	140
5.4 Discussion	149
Chapter 6: Care Arrangements for Older Adults: Exploring the Intergenerational Contract in Emigrant Households of Goa, India	159
6.1 Introduction	159
6.2 Background and Concepts	162
6.3 Methods	167
6.4 Intergenerational Care Arrangements: Findings	172
6.5 Discussion	182
Chapter 7: Summary, Conclusions & Recommendations	195
7.1 Introduction	195
7.2 Research Questions	195

7.3	Care Needs of Older Adults and Association between Living Arrangements and Care Available to Older Adults in India	196
7.4	Care Needs of Older Adults living in Emigrant Households	198
7.5	Identifying and Interpreting Reciprocity in the Care Exchange Relationship	199
7.6	Gendered expectations of Care: Perceived caregiver burden in emigrant households	201
7.7	The contract of intergenerational reciprocity: Adaptive intergenerational care arrangements in emigrant households of India	202
7.8	Theoretical and Methodological Contributions to Ageing Research	203
7.9	Recommendation for Future Research	206
7.10	Policy and Intervention Recommendations	207
	Appendices	214
I	In-depth Interview Guide – Older Adults	215
II	In-depth Interview Guide – Primary Caregivers	221
III	In-depth Interview Guide – Key Informants	226
IV	Informed Consent Form (ICF)	230
V	Elderly Survey - BKPAI questionnaires (2013)	235
VI	Table - Description of Older Adults and their Caregivers from Kerala	236
VII	Table - Description of Older Adults and their Caregivers from Goa	238
	Summary / Samenvatting	243
	Summary	243
	Samenvatting	255

LIST OF TABLES

Table 2.1	Description of the study sample (socio-demographic, socio-economic and financial status of older adults) by their living arrangements (N = 9850)	38
Table 2.2	Distribution and differences in health and functional status by living arrangements	39
Table 2.3	Distribution and differences in caregiving by living arrangement and type of health and functional needs	40
Table 2.4	Distribution and differences in caregivers who paid for the treatment needs of older adults by living arrangements	41
Table 2.5	Unadjusted and adjusted effects (ORs, 95 % CIs) of living arrangements and other independent variables on caregivers for different care needs of older adults	44
Table 4.1.	Description of Older Adults and their Caregivers	102
Table 4.2.	List of code families and codes for older adults and their primary caregivers	105
Table 5.1	Description of Caregivers and their Care Recipients (Older Adults)	138
Table 6.1	Description of Caregivers and their Care Recipients (Older Adults)	170

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1.1	Kerala Administrative Map	7
Figure 1.2	Goa Administrative Map	8
Figure 1.3	Conceptual Model	12
Figure 1.4	Kottayam Political Map	14
Figure 1.5	South Goa Political Map	16

Four chapters in this thesis are reprinted from the following publications and accepted manuscript:

Chapter 2

Ugargol, A. P., Hutter, I., James, K. S., & Bailey, A. (2016). Care Needs and Caregivers: Associations and Effects of Living Arrangements on Caregiving to Older Adults in India. Ageing International, 41(2), 193-213.

Chapter 4

Ugargol, A.P., & Bailey, A. (2020). Reciprocity between older adults and their caregivers in emigrant households of Kerala, India. Ageing and Society, 1-27. doi:10.1017/S0144686X19001685

Chapter 5

Ugargol, A.P., & Bailey, A. (2018). Family caregiving for older adults: gendered roles and caregiver burden in emigrant households of Kerala, India. Asian Population Studies, 14(2), 194-210.

Chapter 6

Ugargol, A.P., Bailey, A., Hutter, I., James, K.S. (forthcoming). Care Arrangements for Older Adults: Exploring the Intergenerational Contract in Emigrant Households of Goa, India. In Bailey, A., Hyde, M. and James, K.S. (Eds). Care for Older Adults in India, Policy Press, UK. (accepted)