University of Groningen

Unpacking opportunity recognition for sustainable entrepreneurship

Enthoven, Margo

DOI:
10.33612/diss.160443584

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version
Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:
2021

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):
Enthoven, M. (2021). Unpacking opportunity recognition for sustainable entrepreneurship. [Thesis fully internal (DIV), University of Groningen]. University of Groningen. <https://doi.org/10.33612/diss.160443584>

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

Unpacking opportunity recognition for sustainable entrepreneurship

Margo Philippina Maria Enthoven

Unpacking opportunity recognition for sustainable entrepreneurship
Copyright © M.P.M. Enthoven, 2021

Printed by GVO Drukkers & Vormgevers, Ede

All material in this dissertation, unless otherwise stated, is copyrighted material owned by the author. No part of this dissertation may be reprinted, reproduced, or utilized in any form or by any electronic, mechanical, or other means now known or hereafter invented, including photocopying and recording or any information storage or retrieval system, without prior written permission of the author.

university of groningen

Unpacking opportunity recognition for sustainable entrepreneurship

PhD thesis

to obtain the degree of PhD at the University of Groningen
on the authority of the Rector Magnificus Prof. C. Wijmenga and in accordance with the decision by the College of Deans.

This thesis will be defended in public on

Thursday 18 March 2021 at 12.45 hours

by

Margo Philippina Maria Enthoven

born on 16 March 1993
in Hellendoorn

Supervisor

Prof. G. de Jong

Co-supervisors

Dr. E.C. Folmer

Dr. A.B. Ünal

Assessment Committee

Prof. J.M.L. van Engelen

Prof. R.J.M. van Tulder

Prof. A.J.M. Roobeek

Acknowledgements

In my preparation of this manuscript, I have enjoyed the support, advice, and friendship of many great people. I dedicate the first pages of this thesis to those people. For supporting me in my academic endeavours, I would first of all like to thank my advisors, Gjalt, Berfu, and Emma, who have made this learning experience possible.

Gjalt, first and foremost, I want to thank you for your entrepreneurial initiation of Campus Fryslân's first research group, and your decision to recruit me as its first PhD. It takes courage to start a new group, and even more so to start a group on a topic that is not always considered a legitimate one by business scholars: sustainability. I count myself immensely fortunate to be the one who has witnessed the Centre for Sustainable Entrepreneurship grow from just the two of us to its current size. Thank you for facilitating this wonderful group of colleagues, for starting my PhD journey, for giving me the freedom to pursue my own projects, and for putting me into the privileged position of the Campus's first PhD researcher.

Berfu, you became my advisor when I was struggling the most, and you have supported me during some very difficult moments of my PhD by always being 'on my team'. Your bright nature, the new insights you have given me, and your boundless kindness have made my life as a PhD student so much better. I have learned from you that in a scholarly environment surrounded by smart people, it is immensely valuable to have an advisor who is not just smart, but also kind. Meeting with you has never failed to lift my spirits.

Emma, thank you for helping me to find my voice. You have helped me to explore what it means to be an independent entrepreneurship scholar, and I feel that our discussions have helped to establish the foundation of my thinking as an academic. In addition to that, your attitude towards supervision has helped me to become both critical and confident of my work. Working with you has been a paradigm shift in itself.

I am also infinitely grateful to Aleid, for taking on the role of mentor over these past years. Your ‘can do’ attitude and hands-on mentality showed me how to do research without making a fuss and collaborating with you has always been easy and positive. Thank you for the learning opportunities and guidance that you have given me, from the first year of my Bachelor to the last year of my PhD.

Also, I am indebted and grateful to the members of the reading committee for taking the time to read and assess this dissertation. Prof. Jo van Engelen, Prof. Annemieke Roobeek and Prof. Rob van Tulder, your considerations and thoughts have contributed to the quality of my manuscript and continue to inspire me in my career as a researcher.

Doing entrepreneurship research means doing people research, and I am grateful to have researched such inspiring and passionate people. A big thanks goes out to all the people I have interviewed or who have provided input for my research in other ways. You have made me truly passionate about entrepreneurship, and you have shown me what it means to be a change agent for sustainability.

Also, I wish to thank all the staff at the Campus Fryslân who have made PhD life easier, and more pleasurable. Never before have I met a group of people so passionate about a shared purpose. My PhD journey is intertwined with that of Campus Fryslân, for which I am grateful. A special thanks goes out to Kirsty and Antoniya. I want to thank Kirsty for correcting my writing entirely in her free time, despite the fact that she left the Campus a couple of months before I finished this manuscript. Antoniya, thank you for helping me as a research assistant through a seemingly endless data collection process.

The Campus Fryslân's PhD community has grown immensely during the start of my PhD, and this community has made me feel at home in Leeuwarden. To all the PhD's I want to say that there is not one of you who I wasn't delighted to meet and share thoughts with. It has been very comforting to know that you are always there when I needed support, and I took great pleasure in all the events and games that you have organized.

A special thank you goes out to Angela, Femke, Hendrik and Manon. All of you have helped me to grow as a scholar and a person. Thank you for sharing the best and the worst moments of my PhD, thank you for your support in all the little sustainability transitions in my life, and thank you for tolerating my chatter when we should all have been working.

Femke, thank you for being an ally from the start. You have defended me and my choices on numerous occasions and events, including my choice to become vegan at the beginning of my PhD. You have also helped me to become a better communicator, which is reflected in everything that I do.

Angela, we were not just colleagues, but 'partners in crime'. You have challenged me to fundamentally question my thinking. Talking with you has changed my view on research and society. You have also taught me to look past my "Dutchness", and to find a more universal way of being. Thank you for being different than anyone else I know, and thank you most of all for being an inspiration and a wonderful friend.

Hendrik, I have always been able to rely on you, in my research and my private life. We have had many theorization sessions, and we have spent many long days, analysing interviews together while trying not to fall asleep. I could not have wished for a better co-author and co-owner of our very surprising research, which took a turn for the best with your collaboration. Thank you also for helping me get back into the groove after being beaten down by sports injuries and data problems.

Manon, it has been a privilege to get to know you and to occasionally get called by your name. Your talent and work ethic continue to amaze and inspire me. Your success as a young scholar does not undermine your support for me or for the other PhDs, nor does it undermine your pursuit of social and community projects. Thank you for being an inspiring friend, for always making the time to help me or anyone who asks, and thank you for taking me dancing when I needed it.

Finally, to my friends and family, thank you for giving me a break. Aan mijn vrienden en vriendinnen: bedankt voor alle keren dat jullie me achter mijn bureau weg hebben gekregen voor een skireisje, weekendje weg of een borrel en een dansje. Ik wil ook mijn lieve familie bedanken voor de ademruimte die jullie me hebben gegeven tussen het onderzoek door. Bedankt voor jullie hulp bij alle verhuizingen, voor het bijtanken in Nijverdal en voor het zijn van een stabiele factor in een tumultueuze vier jaar.

Table of contents

Acknowledgements	iii
Table of contents	vii
List of figures	xi
List of tables	xii
List of appendices	xiii
List of abbreviations	xiv
Chapter 1	1
1.1. Introduction	2
1.2. Grand challenges for sustainable change.....	3
1.3. Sustainable entrepreneurship.....	6
1.4. Unpacking sustainable opportunity recognition	8
1.5. Problem statement	13
1.6. Outline of the dissertation.....	17
Chapter 2	21
2.1 Introduction	22
2.2 Theory.....	25
2.2.1 Sustainable entrepreneurship versus conventional entrepreneurship	25
2.2.2 Spatial concentration in the restaurant sector	28
2.3. Data and method.....	34
2.3.1 Research context.....	35
2.3.2. Sample	36
2.4 Results	41
2.5 Discussion and conclusion.....	46
Chapter 3	49

3.1 Introduction	50
3.2 Theory and hypotheses	53
3.2.1 Sustainability problem recognition and sustainable opportunity recognition.....	53
3.2.2 Values	55
3.2.3 The mediating relationship of problem recognition	58
3.3 Data collection and measures	59
3.3.1 Participants and procedure.....	59
3.3.2 Research design	60
3.3.3 Measures.....	61
3.3.4 Analysis	64
3.4 Results	64
3.4.1 Confirmatory factor analysis	64
3.4.2 Structural equation model.....	66
3.4.3 Mediation effects	68
3.4.4 Robustness tests.....	72
3.5 Discussion.....	73
Chapter 4	79
4.1 Introduction	80
4.2 Theory.....	84
4.2.1 Social entrepreneurship	84
4.2.2 Wicked problems and opportunity recognition	86
4.2.3 Identity.....	88
4.3 Method.....	89
4.3.1 Case description.....	90
4.3.2 Data sources and collection	90
4.3.3 Data analysis.....	91

4.4 The opportunity recognition process for social entrepreneurs.....	94
4.4.1 Recognition of the wicked problem.....	95
4.4.2 Prosocial identity reinforcement.....	97
4.4.3 Translation of the wicked problem to a lower level of abstraction	101
4.4.4 Opportunity recognition: connection of the specific problem to an identity.....	103
4.5 Commercial, political and hybrid opportunity.....	106
4.6 Discussion & Conclusion	108
Chapter 5	115
5.1 Introduction	116
5.2 Theoretical background.....	120
5.2.1 Social movement and entrepreneur	120
5.2.2 Market institutions.....	122
5.2.3 Consumer culture.....	123
5.3. Method.....	125
5.3.1 Case description.....	125
5.3.2 Data sources and collection	127
5.3.3 Data analysis.....	128
5.4 Results	129
5.4.1 Synergies	130
5.4.2 Tactics.....	136
5.5 Discussion and implications	143
5.5.1 Theoretical implications	145
5.5.2 Practical implications	147
5.5.3 Future research	149
Chapter 6	151
6.1 A recap of the research aim and research questions	152

6.2 Summary of the findings	153
6.3 Main conclusion	157
6.4 Reflections on the theoretical implications of the results	157
6.5 Limitations and future research	163
6.6 Reflections on the practical implications of the dissertation	166
6.7 Concluding remarks.....	170
Appendix A: Survey for Kickstarter entrepreneurs (Chapter 3).....	173
Appendix B: Interview guide for chapters 4 and 5 (in Dutch)	178
Appendix C: Additional quotes for chapter 4 by theoretical category	181
Appendix D: Additional quotes for chapter 5 by theoretical category	187
References	191
Nederlandse samenvatting.....	213
Curriculum vitae.....	221

List of figures

Figure 2.1 Incremental spatial autocorrelation of sustainable restaurants	42
Figure 2.2 Spatial concentrations of restaurants in the Netherlands (FDR corrected, distance band 20 kilometres)	44
Figure 2.3 Spatial concentrations of restaurants in the Netherlands (FDR corrected, distance band 38 kilometres)	45
Figure 3.1 The structural model for sustainable opportunity recognition	68
Figure 3.2 Mediation analysis of the mediating role of sustainability problem recognition between biospheric value and sustainable opportunity recognition	71
Figure 3.3 Mediation analysis of the mediating role of sustainability problem recognition between altruistic value and sustainable opportunity recognition	71
Figure 4.1 Overview of the data structure	94
Figure 4.2 The opportunity recognition process in relation to a wicked problem.	96
Figure 5.1 The relationships between actors in the traditional market and the moral market niche	124
Figure 5.2 Overview of the data structure	132
Figure 5.3 Activists' and entrepreneurs' market logics and resulting tactics	145

List of tables

Table 3.1 Loading patterns of the items on the latent factors of the Confirmatory Factor Analysis	64
Table 3.2 Correlation table with means and standard deviations	67
Table 4.1 Interviewees, organization type and time operational	92
Table 5.1 Interviewees, organization type and time operational	130
Table 5.2 Overview of tactics, grouped by strategy and actor	137

List of appendices

Appendix A: Survey for Kickstarter entrepreneurs (Chapter 3).....	173
Appendix B: Interview guide for chapters 4 and 5 (in Dutch)	178
Appendix C: Additional quotes for chapter 4 by theoretical category	181
Appendix D: Additional quotes for chapter 5 by theoretical category	187

List of abbreviations

AIHR	Academy of International Hospitality Research
AOM	Academy of Management
BCERC	Babson College Entrepreneurship Research Conference
CFA	Confirmatory Factor Analysis
ERSA	European Regional Science Association
HTSF	High-Tech Small Firms
IECER	Interdisciplinary European Conference on Entrepreneurship Research
ISIRC	International Social Innovation Research Conference
OLS	Ordinary Least Squares
RENT	Research in Entrepreneurship and Small Business
LISA	Landelijk Informatiesysteem van Arbeidsplaatsen
SEM	Structural Equation Modelling
SME	Small- and Medium-sized Enterprise