

University of Groningen

The role of local communities in a global risk landscape

Imperiale, Angelo Jonas

DOI:
10.33612/diss.131472776

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version
Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:
2020

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Imperiale, A. J. (2020). The role of local communities in a global risk landscape: Using Social Impact Assessment to understand, recognise, engage and empower community resilience in vulnerable regions. [Thesis fully internal (DIV), University of Groningen]. University of Groningen.
<https://doi.org/10.33612/diss.131472776>

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

The role of local communities in a global risk landscape:

Using Social Impact Assessment to understand, recognise, engage and empower community resilience in vulnerable regions

Angelo J. Imperiale

ISBN (printed book) 978-94-034-2513-9
ISBN (PDF) 978-94-034-2514-6
Cover Design Mark van Wijk
Printed by GVO printers & designers, Ede.

© Angelo J. Imperiale, 2020

All rights reserved. Save exceptions stated by the law, no part of this publication may be reproduced in any form, by print, photocopying, or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the author.

university of groningen

The role of local communities in a global risk landscape

Using Social Impact Assessment to understand, recognise, engage and empower community resilience in vulnerable regions

PhD thesis

to obtain the degree of PhD at the University of Groningen
 on the authority of the Rector Magnificus Prof. C. Wijmenga and in accordance with the decision by the College of Deans.

This thesis will be defended in public on Thursday 10 September 2020 at 12.45 hours

by

Angelo Jonas Imperiale

born on 26 October 1984
 in L'Aquila, Italy

Supervisors

Prof. F.M.D. Vanclay
Prof. D. Strijker

Assessment Committee

Prof. E.J.M.M. Arts
Prof. D. Ioannides
Prof. H. Ross

“There is, however, one branch of knowledge which is still behind.
It is Ethics, the teaching of the fundamental principle of Morality ...
this is what Humanity is persistently demanding ...
If the contemplation of the Universe and a close acquaintance with Nature were able to infuse lofty inspiration into the minds of the great naturalists and poets of the nineteenth century, — if a look into Nature’s breast quickened the pulse of life for Goethe, Shelley, Byron, Lermontov, in the face of the raging storm, the calm mountains, the dark forests, and its inhabitants — why should not a deeper penetration into the life of man and destinies be able to inspire the poet in the same way?”.

Pyotr Kropotkin, Ethics: Origin and Development, 1922

The hell of the living is not something that will be:
if there is one, it is what is already here, the hell where we live every day,
that we form by being together.
There are two ways to escape suffering it.
The first is easy for many:
accept the hell and become such a part of it that you can no longer see it.
The second is risky and demands constant vigilance and learning:
seek and be able to recognize who and what, in the midst of the hell,
are not hell, then make them endure, give them space.

Italo Calvino, The Invisible Cities, 1972

*To all victims of disasters of any kind and those who survived
and could experience,
learn from,
and witness
the paradise
amidst the hell.*

*Please, keep this good narrative alive,
for those who died,
and for those who are still to come.*

*A world,
other than disaster capitalism,
is still possible.*

Contents

PART 1

Understanding local community resilience and how SIA can enhance it

Chapter 1: Introduction.....	2
Chapter 2: An overview of the research methodology and research context.....	60
Chapter 3: What is local community resilience and how does it come into action? Experiencing local community resilience in action: Lessons learned from post-disaster communities.....	86
Chapter 4: How can SIA enhance community resilience? Using Social Impact Assessment to strengthen community resilience In sustainable rural development in mountain areas.....	118

PART 2

Identifying the main constraints in the key priority areas for enhancing disaster risk reduction and resilience at all levels of society: Stories from the disaster front

Chapter 5: Understanding risk in all its dimensions (key priority 1) Reflections on the L'Aquila Trial and the social dimensions of disaster risk.....	138
Chapter 6: Strengthening disaster risk governance to reduce disaster risk (key priority 2) Command-and-control, emergency powers, and the failure to observe United Nations disaster management principles following the 2009 L'Aquila earthquake.....	160
Chapter 7: Investing in disaster risk reduction for resilience (key priority 3) The mechanism of disaster capitalism and the failure to build community resilience in post-disaster situations: Learning from the 2009 L'Aquila earthquake..	192
Chapter 8: Building back better in recovery, rehabilitation and reconstruction (key priority 4) Top-down approach in post-disaster reconstruction and the failure to 'build back better' resilient communities after disaster: Lessons from the 2009 L'Aquila Italy earthquake.....	214

PART 3

The role of local communities in a global risk landscape: What can be learned from the disaster front and what needs to be transformed?

Chapter 9: Lessons learned from the disaster front for disaster management, development and impact assessment thinking and practice From assessing impacts to reducing risks from planned interventions: Revolutionizing Impact Assessment to include Disaster Risk Reduction and Resilience to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals.....	234
Chapter 10: What needs to be transformed in disaster management and development? Response to the research questions.....	256
Chapter 11: What role should SIA play? Final Conclusions and recommendations.....	312

Overview of publications produced as part of this research

Seven chapters of this thesis have been published as journal articles. It should be noted that the version of those papers included in this thesis are not necessarily identical to the published version. It was a conscious decision to sometimes include an extended pre-publication version of the paper in this thesis, especially where journal space limitations demanded drastic surgery.

Chapter 3 has been published as:

Imperiale, A.J. and Vanclay, F. (2016a) Experiencing local community resilience in action: Learning from post-disaster communities. Journal of Rural Studies 47, 204-219. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.jrurstud.2016.08.002>

Chapter 4 has been published as:

Imperiale, A.J. and Vanclay, F. (2016b) Using social impact assessment to strengthen community resilience in sustainable rural development in mountain areas, Mountain Research and Development 36(4), 431-442. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1659/MRD-JOURNAL-D-16-00027.1> (open access)

Chapter 5 has been published as:

Imperiale, A.J. and Vanclay, F. (2019) Reflections on the L'Aquila trial and the social dimensions of Disaster Risk, Disaster Prevention and Management: An International Journal, 28(4), 434-445. <https://doi.org/10.1108/DPM-01-2018-0030> (open access)

Chapter 6 has been published as:

Imperiale, A.J. and Vanclay, F. (2019) Command-and-control, emergency powers and the failures to follow United Nations disaster management principles following the 2009 L'Aquila earthquake. International Journal of Disaster Risk Reduction 36, 101099. <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.ijdrr.2019.101099> (open access)

Chapter 7 has been published as:

Imperiale, A.J. & Vanclay, F. 2020 The mechanism of Disaster Capitalism and failure to build community resilience in post-disaster regions: lessons learned from the L'Aquila earthquake. Disasters (in press, online). <https://doi.org/10.1111/disa.12431> (Open Access)

Chapter 8 has been submitted to an international journal:

Imperiale, A. J. and Vanclay, F. The top-down approach in post-disaster reconstruction and the failure to 'build back better' resilient communities after disaster: Lessons learned from the 2009 L'Aquila Italy earthquake, under review with Disaster Prevention and Management: An International Journal.

Chapter 9 has been submitted to an international journal:

Imperiale, A. J. and Vanclay, F. From assessing impacts to reducing risks from planned interventions: Revolutionizing Impact Assessment to include Disaster Risk Reduction and Resilience to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals, under review with Impact Assessment and Project Appraisal.

Part 1

Understanding local community resilience and how Social Impact Assessment can enhance it

