Acknowledgements

I would like to address my thanks to all the patients who participated in this study and who were willing not only to fill out the questionnaires, but also to share their thoughts, feelings and fears with me during our interviews. They have taught me a lot about psychology, although in ways different than from academic books and articles.

From the University Medical Centre Groningen I would like to express my thanks to all members of the Department of Social Medicine, especially to my supervisors:

- Prof. Sijmen A. Reijneveld, my promoter, for sharing his knowledge and for his professional support during my studies and for the many great ideas and important comments that have helped me with my work.
- Dr. Jitse P. van Dijk, my co-promoter, a key person in the cooperation between Kosice and Groningen, for his enthusiasm in starting and developing this research project, and for his support during my PhD study.
- Dr. Berrie Middel, my co-promoter, for his important contribution to the design of the research project and for methodological and statistical advices.
- I would like to thank the members of the Promotion Board, Prof. dr. J.H.B. Geertzen, Prof. dr. J.J.L. van der Klink, Prof. dr. F. Zijlstra for their useful comments on this thesis.

In Slovakia there are also several people to whom I would like to express my gratitude:

- Dr. Iveta Rajničová (Nagyová), my co-promoter, who provided me with necessary information and support especially at the beginning of my study, and for her constant help with statistical issues in my articles.
- Dr. Martin Studencan, my co-promoter, for his openness to the idea of interdisciplinary and international cooperation within this research project.
- Dr. Jaroslav Rosenberger, who also supervised my work; for useful comments especially on clinical issues and practical problems in my articles.
- my colleagues Helena Vargova and Adriana Sudzinova, who are also working on their PhD thesis in the field of CHD, for their great cooperation on this research project.

- Diana Matlakova, for her substantial help in data collection, and the nice cover of this book.
- Daniela Ondusova and Eva Hackenberg for their contribution to data collection.
- I would like to thank all my colleagues from KISH: Dr.Beata Gajdosova and Assoc. Prof. Olga Orosova for being open to the collaboration between the University in Groningen and P.J.Safarik University in Kosice, Andrea Madarasova-Geckova for her important contribution to this cooperation, Martina Sukenikova, Ivana Majerova, Janka Mattova for their help with managing financial and organizational issues, as well as all my co-workers for the good atmosphere at work: Zuzka Veselska, Zuzka Tomcikova, Majka Bacikova, Jozo Benka, Nando Salonna, Ondrej Kalina, Peter Kolarcik, Lukas Pitel, Eva Havlikova and others. I am very grateful that during four years spent in Kosice I have worked with Marika Sarkova, Mata Chylova, Lucia Prihodova and Tana Dubayova, whom I would like to thank for their inspiring and valuable presence in my life.
- I would like to thank Assoc. Prof. Miroslav Skorodenský, my former teacher from the University in Presov, for introducing me the field of research in the psychological factors of CHD.
- My special thank belongs to Dr. Zuzana Novosadova, who supervised my first psychotherapeutic group for cardiac patients, for showing me also another view (not only) of heart diseases.
- Last but not least I would like to express my gratitude to all my friends and family, my brother Peter and especially to my mother for always standing by my side, for their support and love.
