Dr Baudouin Standaert was an employee of GSK Vaccine during the development of this thesis. This causes potential conflict of interest and obviously would hamper any underlying publication being against company strategies/interests. With this starting point, scientific integrity and quality was warranted by a supervisory team, peer-reviewed processes for the underlying papers, and a consistent group of co-authors from academia, including Prof J. Mauskopf, (director at ISPOR), Prof M Raes, Prof O Ethgen, and Prof MJ Postma.
