Propositions

- During brain death, the liver acts in solidarity with others organs.
- Organs suitable for transplantation, suffer from brain death with different intensity (and form).
- In brain death not everything is inflammation.
- Single or multi-organ preconditioning can be difficult within the brain dead donor.
- Mean arterial pressure not always reflects organ perfusion.
- Mitochondrial dysfunction seems to be affordable.
- We have to do, what we have to do (J. Cornejo. Chilean Surgeon).
- To successfully perform a PhD in the Netherlands follow this rule: Fill the form and be on time.
- I prefer chaos instead of this awful reality (M. Redolés. Chilean Poet).
