As I sit back and reflect on the past four years and four months I can’t help but think how quickly time has passed by. Naturally, these same thoughts and feelings never went through my mind whilst in the crux of my PhD. I guess what they say is true – sometimes it’s hard to see the bigger picture when you are standing in the middle of it. The knowledge I have gained, the places I have seen and the many people involved that have now become friends have all made this an incredible experience I will forever remember. To these friends who have made it all possible, thank you.

Firstly, I would like to thank my supervisor Professor Gerald de Haan for accepting me into the Department of Stem Cell Biology. Your steer and support was instrumental towards the completion of this thesis. This opportunity has most certainly helped further my scientific career. Special thanks to Ronald, my co-promoter for your advice and assistance on experiments, proof reading my manuscripts and for the constant repartee.

A big thank you goes to the members of the reading committee, Edo Vellenga, Paul Coffer and Albrecht Mueller for reading and providing critical comments on my thesis.

To my invaluable paranymphs, Bertien and Ellen you have provided the local support and knowledge required to sort out the difficult intricacies towards my graduation. Without both your help I would have never been able to complete all the experiments that have formed the basis of this thesis. Bert, I really appreciated the many hours you spent with me in the CDL. I will miss our chats and your great sense of humour. To my roommates, Leonie, Alice and Lenya thank you for advice, guidance and, most importantly, laughter. Leonie, I’m so pleased that you went through the graduation procedures and formal documents with me. Lenya, I will miss your politically controversial outlook on life and science. Your honesty is refreshing and sadly I will never meet another Lenya. To my friends Sandra, Isabelle and Kyrjon, thanks for being there when I needed to share a joke with you, when I had to let my frustrations out or when I had some great gossip I badly needed to share. Many thanks to my friends and colleagues in Radiation and Stress Cell Biology and Hematology for your critical input. To my students Eelo and Alexandra, thank you for helping out with the work. Your efforts were much appreciated.
Gerry, I can not thank you enough for everything you have done for me. Any bureaucratic problems I had, whether it be my taxes, the IND or the university, you solved it with a smile. If it wasn’t for your dream, I would not have been able to graduate. Your kind-heartedness shines through in the many ways you selflessly help others and I am delighted to have had the pleasure of meeting you.

My Mondays to Fridays would not have been complete without bumping into my fellow international friends, Daniella, Larissa, Heni, Jola and Jarir. The overcooked vegetables and fried food at the hospital was easier to take with the good company.

Special thanks to Babs, my fellow Aussie. Our lunches in the garden, frantically chatting away, always put me in good spirits for the remainder of the day. Many thanks for helping me with the Dutch summary. I don’t know what I would have done without your help.

Groningen would have never been the same without my friends, Joe, Hermione, Mensur, Jackie, Alex, Jim, Brad, Tim, Meagan, John, Susan, Tom, Anna, Leah, Ina, Paul Hoban, Paul Hogarth, Greg, Karolien, Richard, Glen, Lucy, Jeanette, Josh, Tina, Marcella, Thomas, Claire, and Karen. May our crazy skiing stunts, holidays and wild parties continue wherever we are in this world. To the girls, the nights out at Da Vinci’s will always form some of my fondest memories. There is nothing better than pizza, pasta and lots of Rosé and whilst some of you had the luxury of Red Bull’s wings to carry you through the Friday, I only had our canteen’s milk and cheese at my disposal. The lack of culinary diversity never dampened my hungover spirit as I just had to think back to the previous night’s fun and shenanigans to realise it was all worth it. Alex and Jim, thank you for the chocolates, spring rolls, coffee sessions and, most importantly, your perfectly timed phone calls. Josh and Tina, you deserve more for your artistic talents than just food and booze but I’m glad you lowered your rates for my cover. To my friends Michelle, Nathan, Rebecca, Zheng and Eu-Jin thank you for all your continuous support from a distance. Always remember that “wherever you are it is your friends who make your world” (William James).

Most importantly, a big thank you to my loving family. I am grateful for all the love and support my family in Malaysia and Australia have given me all these years. To my parents-in-law, Albert and Pauline, thank you for your care and continuous prayers for me. We have been blessed in so many ways and will always try to remain thankful. To my husband Chevy, thank you for your love and constant encouragement especially when it came to solving mathematical problems. The laughter and fun we shared in Groningen will always resonate in my memories as you made living so far away from home seem not so far at times. You always made sure that I had everything I needed to be happy and to achieve my goals, especially when it came to techno wizardry. Without you I most definitely would not have travelled so much.

To my dearest mum and brother, I thank you from the very bottom of my heart for all that you have done for me, not only during these past four years but throughout my life. You were both always there for me whenever I needed to hear your voices or have my own voice heard by a compassionate ear. I could always depend on either of you to provide the motivation I needed, in the form of a supporting email or phone call, wrapped in a bit of homely cosiness. I hope that I have made you both proud of me and continue to do so in the next phase of my life.

With love
