Acknowledgments

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my supervisor Prof. Harro Meijer at university of Groningen for giving me the opportunity to join his group. I am really grateful for the all supports and advice given me during the years of my PhD program. Thank you also for your patience in correcting my write-ups and manuscripts. I would also like to thank my supervisor Prof. Erik Kerstel at university of Grenoble where I spent one year of my PhD. Thanks for your valuable advice on OF-CEAS instrument throughout the years of this thesis and revising my OF-CEAS chapters.

I also thanks to Prof. Daniele Romanini and Prof. Marc Chevenier for valuable discussions during my one year visiting in Grenoble. Special thanks to Janek Landsburg for further guidance and advice on my OF-CEAS problems via email after my leaving Grenoble.

I would also like to thank the members of my thesis reading committee for patiently reading this thesis and taking part to the examination committee; Prof. Klaas Westerterp, Prof. Hans van der Plicht, and Prof. Daniele Romanini.

I wish to express my gratitude to those people at CIO where I spent the most of my PhD program. Thank you so much to all you to make the CIO a warm and friendly environment. A particular thank to Henk Janson, who helped me often in the lab and on my Dutch letters and paper works. Thanks to Bert Kers who gave me several times hand to sort the unexpected problems out when I encountered. I will never forget the CIO dinner parties, especially my farewell dinner party that we had together.

My PhD study was supported by the Ministry of Science, Research and Technology of IRAN. I would like to take this opportunity to thank them for this support.

I am grateful beyond words to my dearest parents for their endless supports given me over the years. Thanks to my sister Hamideh and brothers Mehdi and Javad for all their love and emotional support. I also thanks to my parents-in-law for their support and sympathy. And most of all, I thank my husband Rasoul for his unconditional supports and helps. Without him, nothing could be possible for me. Many thanks to my lovely daughter Setayesh for giving me energy and love. I dedicate this thesis to Rasoul, Setayesh and my parents with love and gratitude.
