

University of Groningen

Individualism, nationalism, ethnocentrism and authoritarianism

Toharudin, Toni

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version

Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:

2010

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Toharudin, T. (2010). Individualism, nationalism, ethnocentrism and authoritarianism: Evidence from Flanders by means of structural equation modeling. [Thesis fully internal (DIV), Rijksuniversiteit Groningen]. s.n.

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

Acknowledgements

First, special thanks to my promotor Henk Folmer and co-promotor Han Oud for their continuous support in the PhD program. Both of them helped me to complete the writing of the dissertation including two article as well as to handle the challenging econometrics that lies behind it. They taught me how to write academic papers and encouraged me when I had doubts about myself. Without their encouragement and constant guidance, I could not have finished this dissertation.

Also thanks to Jaak Billiet who supported my research. Without his help and his offer to analyze the general election data set, this study could not have been completed.

I would like also to thank the manuscript committee who will surely ask me interesting question during the defense.

Last, but not least, I thank to my family: my mother (Aik Karmini), my mother in law (Tjutju Tjahjati) and my lovely wife (Nina) and my children (Ayu and Tata). They were very patient and encouraged me to finishing my PhD program. Also thank to Kai, Katja and Mascha, who were very helpful when I studied in Belgium and The Netherlands.

