About the author

Pauline Goense was born on April the 2nd, 1986 in 's-Gravenhage, The Netherlands. After completing her secondary school at Maerlant Lyceum The Hague in 2004 and a year of travelling through Australia, she studied Behavior and Society at the University of Amsterdam. In 2008 she obtained her bachelor's degree and enrolled in the Master Program Studies of Forensic Child and Youth Care Sciences at the same university. During this Master Program she spent half a year in the Dutch Caribbean for her research internship at a juvenile justice care facility on the island of Curacao. In 2009 Pauline obtained her Master Degree and enrolled in the transition program Public Law which enabled her to enroll in the Master Program Public Law, curriculum Criminal Law the year after. In 2011 she obtained the Master Degree in Criminal Law at the University of Amsterdam. Between 2010 and 2012 Pauline was also the project coordinator of the Netwerk Effectieve Jeugzorg Amsterdam (NEJA), worked as a (substitute) youth care worker in a closed youth care facility for children with severe behavioral problems (de Koppeling) and worked as a junior policy advisor at the department 'Research and Development' of Spirit, a youth care organization in Amsterdam.

Since 2011 Pauline holds a position as a researcher and lecturer at the Amsterdam University of Applied Sciences. She works in the research group 'Implementation and Effectiveness of Youth Care Services'. A research proposal that was granted by Stichting Innovatie Alliantie (SIA) in 2012 kick started the PhD project of Pauline which was later (2013) made official in collaboration with the University of Groningen. Pauline is co-initiator of the Netherlands Implementation Collaborative (NIC) and board member of the European Implementation Collaborative (EIC).
