

University of Groningen

The right to health as the basis for universal access to essential medicines

Perehudoff, Sammi-Jo Katrina

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version

Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:

2018

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Perehudoff, S-J. K. (2018). The right to health as the basis for universal access to essential medicines: A normative framework and practical examples for national law and policy. Rijksuniversiteit Groningen.

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

The right to health as the basis for universal access to essential medicines

A normative framework and practical
examples for national law and policy

S. Katrina Perehudoff

Publisher: University of Groningen, the Netherlands
Layout by: Bloom - Creating Imagination
Cover: Bloom - Creating Imagination

ISBN: 978-94-034-0880-4 (printed version)
978-94-034-0879-8 (electronic version)

S. Katrina Perehudoff

The right to health as the basis for universal access to essential medicines: A normative framework and practical examples for national law and policy

Doctoral Dissertation, University of Groningen, the Netherlands

©2018 by S. Katrina Perehudoff - Oostende.

All rights reserved. no part of the material protected by this copyright notice may be reproduced or utilised in any form by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or by any information storage and retrieval system, without the prior permission of the author.

rijksuniversiteit
 groningen

The right to health as the basis for universal access to essential medicines

A normative framework and practical
 examples for national law and policy

PhD Thesis

to obtain the degree of PhD
 at the University of Groningen on the authority of the Rector Magnificus Prof. E Sterken and in accordance with the decision by the College of Deans.

This thesis will be defended in public on Wednesday September 5th, 2018 at 9:00 hours

by

Sammi-Jo Katrina Pehudoff

born on 7 September 1986
 in Medicine Hat, Canada

Supervisors

Prof. H. V. Hogerzeil

Prof. B. C. A. Toebe

Assessment Committee

Prof. A. Chapman

Prof. A. L. B. Colombi Ciacchi

Prof. A. K. Mantel-Teeuwisse

To my first role models:

To the outstanding teachers at my primary and secondary school, the Centre for Academic and Personal Excellence (CAPE) in Medicine Hat, Canada, and in particular, its founder, former principal and superintendent Dr. Teresa DiNinno. Dr. DiNinno, you wove scientific inquiry into the fabric of our school, creating a place where young people are equal parts student and scientist. My interest in research is a testament to CAPE's training and your inspiration all those years ago. Beyond that, you were a role model in every way: the first— and for a long time, the only— woman I knew with a PhD. A dedicated first-generation Canadian who overcame a host of challenges to build your life in a new country. A person who put everything on the line to realise your vision of a more holistic and equitable education policy.

To my mom, Linda Ferguson, for her willingness to trial a little prairie school with big ideas, her unseen sacrifices to make my attendance possible and her unconditional love.

Table of Contents

Chapter 1
Introduction		11
Chapter 2
The normative framework for access to medicines
2.1	What constitutes 'reasonable' state action on core obligations? Considering a right to health framework to provide essential medicines	29
2.2	A human rights-based approach to the reimbursement of expensive medicines	59
2.3	Realising the right to sexual and reproductive health: Access to essential medicines for medical abortion as a core obligation	67
2.4	Normative framework	83
Chapter 3
Human rights in domestic law and policy for access to medicines
3.1	Essential medicines in national constitutions: progress since 2008	99
3.2	The right to health as the basis for universal health coverage: A cross-national analysis of national medicines policies of 71 countries	129
3.3	Legislating for universal access to medicines: A rights-based cross-national comparison of UHC laws in 16 countries	159
Chapter 4
Towards access to medicines through policy and practice
4.1	Access to medicines in 195 countries: A human rights approach to sustainable development	193

Chapter 5
Human rights for access to medicines in domestic courts
5.1 How the Uruguayan judiciary shapes access to high-priced medicines: A critique through the right to health lens	223
Chapter 6	249
Discussion and conclusions
Summary	275
Samenvatting	281
Acknowledgements	287
Annexes
Annex 1 - Innovative text for access to medicines in national medicines policies	295
Annex 2 - Innovative text for access to medicines in national UHC legislation	309
Annex 3 - Access to medicines indicators in 195 countries	335
Annex 4 - CV of the Author	349
Research Institute SHARE	353

