Curriculum vitae

Vincent Donker studied dentistry at the University of Groningen. During his studies, he was board member of the dental faculty student association and was student assistant at the Department of Implant Dentistry. He graduated as a dentist in 2020 and in that same year started PhD research on the subject of digital innovations in implant dentistry, combined with working as a general dentist in a private practice. Vincent is a member of several scientific associations in the fields of implant dentistry, restorative dentistry and aesthetic dentistry.
